Chinese Evacuate Chinchow as Japs Approach City

CHANG TAKES STEP TO PREVENT DRIVE INTO NORTH CHINA

NIPPONESE SMASH FOES' RESISTANCE

Chinese Infantry Blasted Out of Way by Planes and Guns as It Attempts To Check Advance.

By the Associated Press.

Chinese troops began evacuating Chinchow today on orders of Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang to withdraw behind the great wall.

Complete victory for the Japanese arms in Manchuria appeared assured. Japanese forces were expected to occupy Kowangtze later in the day and Chinese military officials said the Japanese were preparing to move troops into Chinchow.

A Port Arthur dispatch to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi said a number of Japanese cruisers and destroyers had sailed for an unannounced destination, owing to the Chinchow developments.

Marshal Chang gave this order as two Japanese armies were successfully carrying out a tactical movement apparently aimed at forcing the Chinese out of Chinchow, China's last stand in Manchuria, and thereby making Japan dominant throughout the province.

In giving the evacuation order Marshal Chang explained that the step was taken to rob Japan of any excuse for the invasion of China proper on the pretext of military necessity after the forcible seizure of Chinchow.

General Tamon's army continued its machine-like advance north from Yingkow, breaking down every line of Chinese resistance and capturing the city of Panashan. Four times the Chinese tried to stem the advance and four times they were blown out by air bombs and artillery.

Meanwhile a Japanese brigade moved from Mukden to Hsinmintun, apparently for the purpose of pushing southward to join General Tamon's column at Kowangtze for a frontal attack in Chinchow.

A few Japanese planes flew over Chinchow, frightening residents of the city, but dropping no bombs.

State Treasurer Dies

CAPTAIN W. J. SPEER.

WILLIAM J. SPEER DIES AT AGE OF 85

State Treasurer for 25 Years, Was Oldest Official of Georgia.

William J. Speer, 85, state treasurer and oldest Georgia official in point of service and age, died at his residence, 286 Eleventh street, N. E., Tuesday morning, ending 40 years of service as an official of Georgia.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at First Presbyterian church, conducted by the Rev. Dr. J. Spole Lyons, pastor, assisted by Dr. Samuel T. Senter, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

For approximately 16 years Captain Speer served as assistant state treasurer, and was in charge of the fiscal department of Georgia for 25 years, being noted for his continuous activity. He served at his desk in the capitol until two weeks ago, when he was stricken by illness.

Fallbearers to serve at the services today were announced as follows:

John K. Murphy, J. O. Anderson, H. A. Hixon, C. N. Blacklock, C. H. Keith and J. A. Burch.

In a tribute to Captain Speer, Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. said Tuesday afternoon:

"With the passing of State Treasurer William J. Speer, the state of Georgia has lost one of her most distinguished sons and ablest public servants."

"His services to the state in the exalted position he occupied at the time of his death were characterized by the same patriotism and high-mindedness that inspired him as one of the gallant followers of the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy."

"General Speer was a gentleman"

Burglar Binds Woman Then Ransacks Home

Mrs. J. B. Cochran, of 956 McMillan street, was bound hand and foot with towels while a lone burglar ransacked her home Tuesday night, according to police reports. She was left tied for more than an hour.

Mrs. Cochran told police that she was alone in the house when a white man forced his way in and proceeded to tie her up. She screamed once, she said, and that the burglar told her, "If you scream again I'll knock your head off."

He then searched the house but, finding no money, left without taking anything, it was said. Mrs. Cochran's husband returned an hour after the burglar's departure and released her. The man was described to police as about 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighing approximately 175 pounds.

Death came to the widow of the beloved Georgia poet at the home of her son, Charles D. Lanier. She was 87 and lived for 50 years after the author of "The Song of the Chattahoochee" and numerous other poems succumbed in North Carolina.

Mrs. Lanier was the subject of one of Lanier's most beautiful poems, "My Springs," in which Lanier said he received inspiration and faith and expression of love from looking into his wife's eyes.

The devotion of Mrs. Lanier to her husband often has been the subject of

GENERAL MOTORS TO HANDLE SALES IN S. E. AREA HERE

Atlanta Selected for Headquarters for New Subsidiary Corporation. Six States in Territory.

The General Motors Corporation has selected Atlanta for a new experiment in sales organization. Announcement to this effect was made Tuesday in connection with the formation of the S. E. Sales Corporation, a subsidiary of General Motors, which will handle from Atlanta the sales of all General Motors products, except Chevrolet motor cars, in the southeast.

R. H. Grant, vice president of General Motors in charge of sales, is president of the new corporation. R. L. Myers, vice president of the corporation and its general manager, will direct the experiment from Atlanta. Mr. Myers is already here.

"We shall not begin functioning actively after the first of the year, and will have more definite information to give out at that time," Mr. Myers said.

The corporation's headquarters will be in the Buick building on Spring street. The exact capital of the company was not disclosed, but Mr. Grant, in a statement made in Ohio, declared that it would be as much as $5,000,000.

The experiment for the present, at least, will be confined to Atlanta and the southeast, and will not be duplicated in other sections, as matters now stand, Mr. Grant added.

"But," he said, "we will see what happens."

The company will have as its territory Georgia, the Carolinas, Alabama, Florida and Tennessee east of the Tennessee river. It will handle the sales campaigns of Cadillac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Oakland-Pontiac motor cars, as well as Frigidaire and Delco-Light.

Mr. Grant formerly lived in Atlanta. Mr. Myers will have his home here and be the executive officer in charge of the corporation.

CALVIN W. PARKER DIES AT WAYCROSS

Member of Public Service Commission Was Widely-Known Georgian.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Calvin W. Parker, 50, member of the Georgia public service commission, and formerly representative of Ware county in the state legislature, died at his residence here today of a heart attack.

Commissioner Parker had been in ill health more than a year but for the last several months had been attending meetings of the commission in Atlanta. He died at 6:30 p. m.

Born near Waycross, Ga., Parker attended schools in that county and began a business career as a real estate dealer and merchant. His first political post was that of alderman in the city government of Waycross.

He was elected to the legislature from Ware county in 1915 and served until 1917. From that year until the board was done away with, Mr. Parker served as umpire and chairman of the board arbitrating difficulties between Docktown, Tenn., the Tennessee copper companies, and the state of Georgia. He was appointed to the chairmanship of the board by former Governor Harris.

In 1923 Mr. Parker again was elected to the general assembly from Ware county, and served in the extra session of 1924.

At the time of his death, he was serving a second term on the public service commission, of which he had been a member since 1924.

Widow of Sidney Lanier Passes At Home of Son in Connecticut

Mrs. Mary Day Lanier, whose love for her husband, Sidney Lanier, was the subject of one of his most exquisite poems, died Tuesday in Greenwich, Conn.

Direct Federal Aid for Jobless Urged by Hoover Relief Aides

A senate manufacturers' subcommittee heard testimony on December 28 that federal funds would be needed to take care of the unemployed next year. William Hodson, executive secretary of the welfare council of New York, and Samuel A. Goldsmith, executive director of Jewish charities in Chicago, told of the needs of their cities. Left to right are: Hodson, Senator Costigan of Colorado, Chairman La Follette of the committee, and Goldsmith. Associated Press photo.

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Direct federal aid to the unemployed was approved in varying degrees before a senate committee today by three welfare leaders who have co-operated with President Hoover and his relief advisers, testified that aid for the unemployed must come from the federal government, if it is not available elsewhere. Present funds, he said, "are altogether inadequate."

The third member of the trio, Frank Bane, director of the American Association of Public Welfare Officials, said federal assistance "of some type" would be beneficial. Burns told the committee there "is no prospect of sufficient funds to meet relief needs and unless local governments provide twice as much as last year the distress burden cannot be met by local communities."

He estimated community chests would raise a total of $100,000,000, but said only 35 per cent of this goes to family relief and the communities are now averaging expenditures of more than 200 per cent over last year.

Senator Costigan, democrat of Colorado, asked Burns if he saw any objection to the use of public funds for relief.

"There would be both helpless and hopeless without them," he replied.

Burns told the committee there "is no prospect of sufficient funds to meet relief needs and unless local governments provide twice as much as last year the distress burden cannot be met by local communities."

U. S. To Take No Part In Europe's Debt Parley

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Europe's insistent hinting that an American delegate should sit in the forthcoming reparations conference received only this answer today in official quarters here:

"There will be no trip to Europe this winter."

They were the words of Ogden Mills, undersecretary of the treasury, President Hoover's last caller yesterday and his first today.

Mills' short reply to the questions of newspapermen put tersely an apparent determination, both by the administration and by congress, to let Europe work out its own problems for the present and turn attention to pressing matters at home.

BY HAL STEED. Employment for 250 mill workers of the skilled type will be given in the million-dollar plant of the Clark Thread Company near Austell which has already started spinning operation in 90 days.

The plant, which is being built on a hillside overlooking the city, is a complete unit, including spinning, weaving, finishing and grading streets. About 50 houses have been completed. Shrubbery is being planted, and by spring every detail will have been completed.

The central unit of the plant has 40,000 spindles, and every modern development of factory construction is shown in it. In addition to this plant there is a boiler room and opening room which are housed in brick buildings. The central unit is 100 by 500 feet.

The company bought 1,000 acres and has plenty of room for expansion. In fact the present buildings are only the initial units of what will eventually be the largest thread mill in the world. Just when the address of the plant was given, Mr. Drake was not prepared to say.

The company, the headquarters of which are in Newark, N. J., had been figuring on opening a plant in the south for several years. About a year ago its choice narrowed to locations in Georgia and Alabama. Finally it took options on several small farms near Austell and early this year exercised them. Construction was begun at once.

The plant has ample water facilities, is on the National highway, and its property fronts on two railroads, the Southern and Seaboard. The site

Liggett Brings Lenz Luck; Culbertson's Lead Cut 520

BY TOM O'NEIL. NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—(Wednesday)—Sidney S. Lenz clicked with a new partner at the fifteenth session of the big contract bridge match ending early today. He and Commander Winfield Liggett Jr., disabled war veteran, cut 520 points off the lead of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson.

After 112 rubbers of the series had been played the Culbertsons were 16,320 points ahead, having won 63 rubbers compared to 49 for Lenz and partner. Lenz and Liggett won five of the session's nine rubbers.

Liggett was doubled twice by the Culbertsons and Lenz once, and each time the contract was successful. Once Liggett took all the tricks when doubled at five clubs. Again he succeeded at five hearts doubled. He was not vulnerable either time.

When vulnerable Lenz was doubled at four spades and made five.

FREIGHT RATE HIKE IN STATE ORDERED, EFFECTIVE JAN. 4

Principal Agricultural Products Not Affected by New Interstate Scale Authorized by Body.

Increased freight rates on intrastate shipments in Georgia, ordered by the Georgia public service commission Tuesday, probably will go into effect January 4, the same date interstate rates recently approved by the interstate commerce commission become operative.

The Georgia commission authorized the roads to increase their rates "in the same amount and to the same extent" as authorized by the I. C. C. with the exception that the Georgia commission declined to authorize any increase on sand, gravel and crushed stone.

Chairman Perry in a statement announcing the granting of the increase said that "at this time" neither the Georgia commission nor the interstate commerce commission has the power to authorize increases in these rates in Georgia traffic. In December, the I. C. C. issued an order to the railroads to disregard competitive rates fixed by the Georgia commission.

Increases authorized, the commission statement said, range from 6 cents per ton to 2 cents per 100 pounds. No increase whatever has been authorized on the principal products of agriculture, cotton, grain and grain products, fresh fruits and live stock. The increase applies to coal, coke, rough stone, lumber, box and crate material, scrap iron, unmanufactured tobacco, cantaloupes, watermelons, fresh vegetables, fertilizer and naval stores.

None of the group is willing to discuss the plans of the independents at this time. It is certain that no third party will be started or attempted until after both the republican and democratic conventions of next June.

Senator Johnson, of California, has not been identified with the republican independents from the northwest. However, he has been in frequent opposition to the Hoover policies and is regarded as a potential republican candidate in the primaries against the president.

Another anti-Hoover organization of unknown strength is digging in here for the campaign under the leadership of Horace H. Carter, of Tennessee, who directed the republican drive in the southern states in 1928.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, has stood by the regular republican party through two previous third party movements but his name is linked with the new talk, nevertheless. He has been a leader of the republican independent drive in the fight against the Hoover tariff and farm relief programs.

Governor Pinchot is understood to have talked over an anti-Hoover contest with the republican independents in recent conversations here.

Of the democratic presidential candidates in the fight against the Hoover tariff and farm relief programs, only the name of Governor Roosevelt, of New York, has been mentioned as satisfactory to some of the group. He is, however, a republican.

GEORGIANS DIVIDED ON DOLE QUESTION

Leaders Agreed That Relief Must Come From Some Source.

While civic and welfare leaders in several parts of the state are agreed that aid from some source must be forthcoming to ward off hunger and want for the needy unemployed this winter, few will admit that the proper solution of the problem is a government action.

In Atlanta, those most closely connected with the work of relieving the jobless referred particularly to the need for an act of congress to declare a federal holiday for the unemployed this winter, few will admit that the proper solution of the problem is a government action.

J. Homer Dimon, president of the Columbus Community Chest, said that although his city has the situation in hand and is taking care of the problem, appeals for assistance are greater than they were a year ago.

Although Macon leaders declined to comment on the question of a dole, they pointed out that the unemployment situation there is worse than it was last winter and that between 1,100 and 1,200 are registered at the Macon civic employment exchange.

Some progress in employment work was reported by John Phinix, chairman of Augusta's emergency committee, who said that 3,500 persons were registered with the committee and that of this number 1,125 had been given full or part-time work. He indicated that his city is handling its situation adequately.

The question of whether or not Atlanta and other Georgia cities must receive outside aid was raised when Frank Bane, director of the American Association of Public Welfare Officials, told the senate subcommittee Tuesday that the municipalities must receive outside aid before the end of winter.

Declining to say that the federal government should offer direct aid in the form of a dole, Milton C. Bell, cashier of the Federal Reserve bank and president of the Community Chest, said that additional funds must come from some source to care for the unemployed.

"More and more people are becoming

Daniels Predicts Hoover's Defeat If Democrats Name Progressive

BY BRYAN COLLIER. NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—A 1932 presidential candidate, who embodies liberal and progressive views and has "no vestige of standpatism or pink republicanism," was urged upon the democratic party today by Joseph Daniels.

"For," said the secretary of the navy in the Wilson administration, "the situation next year will be no unlike that of 1912. Now, as then, the people are going to elect a president who embodies liberal and progressive views."

"The democratic party is fortunate in having available candidates who meet the specifications and who incarnate progressive principles. Par-

ROOSEVELT GIVEN APPROVAL OF SOME

Little Hope Seen for Blocking President's Path to Renomination in June Convention.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Third party talk developed definitely today in the discussions of the anti-Hoover faction of the republicans on Capitol hill.

Unconvinced of their ability to block Mr. Hoover's re-nomination and dubious over the outlook for an acceptable democratic candidate, the republican independents of the northwest are anxiously considering a third party movement.

The name of Senator Norris, of Nebraska, is that about which the third party discussion revolves mostly. Other names also are heard very definitely, including Senators Borah, of Idaho, and Johnson, of California, and Governor Hiram Johnson, of Tennessee.

Norris is known to have declined pleas that he enter a contest against re-nomination of Hoover by the republican convention. However, it is not understood that he closed the door to himself should a third party develop.

Against Hoover.

The group candidates discussed by the group—Borah, Johnson and Pinchot—are still in mind for a race against Hoover in the republican presidential primaries of next spring.

None of the group is willing to discuss the plans of the independents at this time. It is certain that no third party will be started or attempted until after both the republican and democratic conventions of next June.

LEUT. WILLIAMS LAST RITES

Veteran Police Officer
Succumbs to Injuries
Received Friday Night.

Officers and members of the police force today will pay final tribute to one of the veteran figures of the department when funeral services for Lieutenant J. Walter McWilliams are held. Rites will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the Martha Brown Methodist church, and burial will be in Sylvester cemetery.

The following honorary escort will serve as pallbearers: Captain A. J. Holcombe, Lieutenants O. H. Jones, C. H. Mitchell and R. J. Brown; Patrolmen W. C. Duncan, W. R. Harman, M. B. Johnson and L. Boyce and an additional honorary cortege of five patrolmen from each of the three watches.

Lieutenant McWilliams died Tuesday morning at Grady hospital of injuries received when he stepped from his automobile Christmas night, walked across Peachtree street and was struck by an automobile driven by G. A. Wilensky, 317 Ponce de Leon avenue. He sustained compound fracture of the skull, internal injuries and severe cuts and bruises. Wilensky is at liberty under bond of $1,000 on technical charges of reckless driving. His case will be heard in recorder's court Thursday afternoon, but Chief of Police James P. Beavers Tuesday said he will not be taken in custody.

The accident, which cost the veteran officer his life, occurred between Tenth and Eleventh streets on Peachtree. McWilliams had just stepped from his car, with the intention of entering a cafe opposite where he was parked. Chief Beavers Tuesday paid tribute to McWilliams, saying:

"In his long career he has probably caught more burglars in the act of entering stores or homes than any other officer in the department. He was a most active and diligent man and he will be greatly missed. The entire police department mourns his untimely passing and extends its sincere condolences to the members of his family."

Approximately 15 years ago Lieutenant McWilliams received injuries almost identical to those suffered Christmas night. As a motorcycle policeman he crashed into a wagon and was so seriously hurt that surgeons found it necessary to fit a silver plate to a portion of his skull. In the accident last Friday the officer was hurt in the same place, causing complications from which recovery was impossible.

McWilliams was known as an expert marksman with a revolver, and his record showed that he had been engaged in a more than 20-year career with desperadoes. He had been a member of the force for more than 20 years.

A native of Atlanta, Lieutenant McWilliams was born on February 19, 1884. Surviving are his father, J. W. McWilliams; his widow, Mrs. Ruby McWilliams; a son, Harry McWilliams; two daughters, Misses Vera and Gertrude McWilliams; two brothers, Thomas E. and James S. McWilliams, and a grandson.

RAIL HEADS SET DATE FOR PARLEY ON WAGES

CLEVELAND, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Railway Labor Executives Association, comprising 21 brotherhoods and unions, today set January 14 as the date for meeting with a committee of nine railroad presidents to discuss the unions' proposals for unemployment relief and the railroads' proposed 15 per cent wage cut.

In addition, the railway labor heads decided to call the brotherhoods' 1,500 general chairmen on the various railroads to meet in Chicago January 12 in advance of the presidents' conference to determine upon a policy for the January 14 meeting. Labor heads expect to have a representative committee from each involved labor organization participate in the conference with the railroad presidents.

This will include the 21 executives of the brotherhoods and subcommittees from each organization, bringing the total labor representation at the conference to approximately 200. D. B. Robertson, chairman of the Association and president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said the conference did not discuss the proposed wage decrease asked by the railroads at the New York meeting December 18.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WORKERS ACCEPT CUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Southern Pacific union shopmen agreed late today to accept a 10 per cent reduction in wages, effective January 1.

The agreement came after a lengthy conference in which the shopmen contended for a guarantee of a 4-day minimum week at the reduced wage. Southern Pacific representatives said the guarantee was not given.

NAPIER CONSIDERS POWELL FOR POST

Attorney General George M. Napier Tuesday continued to investigate the fitness of former Representative J. Spencer Powell, of Kentucky, to be an assistant attorney general as soon as the reorganization of the legal department is effected. Friday, Governor Russell named Powell, William King Meadows and John I. Kelley as three of six assistants authorized. Meadows and Kelley have been approved by Napier.

With T. R. Gress, who is now assistant attorney general, the Powell appointment completes four of six assistants authorized by the general assembly. Plans are being worked out now for the appointment of a fifth to be paid by the department of banking and assigned to duty there. Kelley has been assigned to the public service commission, and Powell is expected to succeed Sam Matthews as special attorney to the highway board.

PARAMOUNT-PUBLIX MAKES SALARY CUT

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Paramount-Publix Corporation announced today salaries of employees in the distribution department had been cut from 5 to 10 per cent, effective this week.

Those whose wage has been reduced are studio publicity men, members of the sales department and exchanges and theater employees.

RAINEY TAX PROGRAM DRAWS MILLS' ATTACK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Democratic proposals that the wealthy bear the brunt of increased taxes were assailed as "insane" tonight by Undersecretary Mills, of the treasury.

Seizing as the target of his criticism a statement by Representative Rainey, floor leader of the house democratic majority, Mills asserted huge surtaxes would not meet the treasury's needs because the large incomes on which they would be levied have virtually been wiped out.

Rainey's program, with which many democratic leaders are not in agreement, proposed repeal of the capital stock gains and losses provision of the present tax law and urged making increased taxes payable on income of 1931. He opposed increasing the rate on small incomes and suggested a maximum surtax of 60 per cent. He also proposed a bond issue to cover part of the treasury deficit.

Informed of the Mills' statement, Speaker Garner said: "Nobody has been authorized to speak for the democratic party on a tax program, and nobody has. There is no complete program yet. Mr. Mills can set up a straw man and knock him down if he wants to, but it's nothing more than a product of his imagination."

Other democratic leaders made it clear today that Rainey was speaking as an individual and not for the party. They concurred in some of his views and differ on others.

Stellar Explosion
Advanced As Origin
Of Solar System

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The theory of an exploding giant star—bursting as a fireball sometimes does when it whirls too fast—was offered as the origin of the solar system today before the American Astronomical Society.

Dr. Ross Gunn, of the United States naval research laboratory, pictured this star as probably bursting into two large fragments, one of which he said became the sun. The other, he believes, sped off and was lost in space. Minor fragments of the "explosion," held near the sun by its attraction, became the planets.

His theory holds that many other stars probably burst in the same way and "planetary systems are undoubtedly quite common in the universe. Whether these are inhabited, he said, "must long remain unanswered, but conditions on many of them must be comparable to those on earth."

VETERANS' CANCEL PARADE FOR BONUS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The White House was informed today that a parade of veterans belonging to the Army and Navy Union to demand additional bonus legislation of congress has been canceled in accordance with President Hoover's wishes that federal appropriations be held down.

RASKOB TO RESIGN AFTER CONVENTION

Democratic Leader Lets
It Be Known He Has No
Desire To Serve Longer.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Taking cognizance of recent statements by that organization leaders predicting that the coming year will witness the ousting of John J. Raskob as chairman of the democratic national committee, close friends of Mr. Raskob here have let it be known that he has no intention of remaining at his present post after the national convention meets in June.

The national chairman is represented as anxious to relinquish his duties. Desire to continue on for another period of four years and through another presidential campaign is said to be the furthest thing from his mind. Because of this attitude of his friends here have been quick to answer the most recent dry attack, which if left unnoticed would open the way for his critics to claim a personal victory later on, when he voluntarily steps aside at the expiration of his term.

As a matter of fact, the circumstances surrounding the election of chairman of either national committee, republican or democrat, do not invite the active candidacy of any man for the post. While the chairman is elected by the national committee, actually the latter body has little to do with his selection. The presidential nominee of both major parties, through long established custom, selects a chairman of his choice. About the only function of the national committee is to ratify the selection.

Rarely is there a holdover in the office, even in the case of a president who is nominated to succeed himself. He usually selects a new man to manage his campaign for re-election.

In the event Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, is the next democratic presidential nominee, as it now appears, it will be left to him to decide whom he wants as chairman of the national committee. Naturally he will choose some one who, not only is a personal friend, but who is fully in sympathy with his plans and policies in view of the conflicting aims of Chairman Raskob and friends of Governor Roosevelt with respect to the nomination it is hardly to be expected that the New York executive would turn to the present chairman for his manager in the campaign.

The same, of course, is true of Governor Ritchie, of Maryland; former Secretary of War Baker, of Ohio, and with the possible exception of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, all the others who have been mentioned for the democratic presidential honors. It is not at all certain, moreover, that Mr. Raskob would want to remain on even if some unexpected turn of the political cards should again make Mr. Smith the party standard bearer.

As his friends here put it, he consented to remain on after the 1928 elections with a three-fold purpose in view. First, to rehabilitate the party from the disastrous defeat suffered; second, to bring about a liberal stand on prohibition as a means of capturing the electoral vote of the powerful block of eastern states where wet sentiment prevails; and, third, to raise funds for meeting the party deficit left by the 1928 campaign.

Through the elaborate party national headquarters activity he has established here, his friends feel that he has rendered important service on the first score. As for prohibition, for a time he was prepared to make a fight for a referendum plank in the national platform but now is reported to have given this up as a move toward harmony. Finally, through the recently organized victory fund, the forces are now in operation through which he hopes to eliminate the party debt by the time he turns in his credentials in June.

SINGLE PROHIBITION VOTE SLATED FOR HOUSE

Senator Ashurst Refuses To Serve on Committee To Conduct Hearing.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The democratic house will be allowed one vote and no more this session on the question of prohibition under a plan announced today by Majority Leader Rainey.

The Illinois democrat said the wet forces would be notified they could not have a roll call on a referendum on the eighteenth amendment and a ballot on the return of light wines and beer, too.

Simultaneously with this announcement, Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, refused to serve on a senate judiciary subcommittee named to conduct hearings on the dry laws. Ashurst, a prohibitionist, said he had "no time to waste in aiding those who are attempting to weaken or relax" them.

Senator Black, of Alabama, another democratic friend of prohibition, was appointed by Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, chairman, in Ashurst's place.

Black said he "presumed" he would serve, but asserted that it was more important to the people for congress to "consider the terrible economic conditions than it is to hear people's personal opinions on the eighteenth amendment."

After Ashurst's withdrawal, Senator Norris noted that the Monday on the subcommittee was unchanged, with two wet, Chairman Blaine, Wisconsin, and Senator Herbert, Rhode Island, republicans; and three dry, Borah, of Idaho, republican; Walsh, of Montana, and Black, of Alabama, democrats.

The group is expected to start hearings in about two weeks on measures by Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, calling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, regulation of wood alcohol traffic and to permit physicians to prescribe malt liquors.

Former Pen Prisoner Admitted to U. S. Bar

Before the same bar where he once pleaded for his release from the Atlanta federal penitentiary on a writ of habeas corpus, R. C. Horne Jr. Tuesday was admitted to practice as an attorney. Horne took the oath before Judge E. Marvin Underwood.

Months after Horne appeared before Judge Samuel H. Hixley, who is now on the circuit court of appeals bench, and presented his appeal for a writ of habeas corpus. The writ was denied and Horne appealed to the circuit court. While the appeal was pending his release was authorized by the attorney-general.

FRATERNITIES DISCUSS CHAPTER PROBLEMS

Resumption of elections and consideration of chapter problems marked the second day's sessions of two national fraternities—Delta Sigma Phi and Phi Rho Sigma—both holding conventions at the Biltmore hotel. Paul W. Chapin, Chicago, was re-elected second vice president of Delta Sigma Phi; Hugh McMillan, Montreal, traveling secretary for the last three years, was named third vice president; Dr. Hugh J. Ryan, Bradford, Pa., was again chosen editor; and R. Guy Smith, Dallas, Texas, was named counsel and historian.

Election of officers will be held by Phi Rho Sigma this morning.

Phi Rho Sigma is a national medical fraternity, while Delta Sigma Phi is an international social organization. Both have chapters in Atlanta.

At previous elections held by the social fraternity Monday afternoon, Paul Ashley, Boston, Mass., was chosen president, and B. O. Godfrey, Atlanta, was named first vice president.

Both fraternities were devoting a majority of the convention time to consideration and discussion of chapter affairs. Delegates were present from all sections of the United States and Canada.

One of the outstanding addresses of the day was that delivered by Dr. Charles Franklin Moon, director of obstetrics at the University of Nebraska, who spoke before the Phi Rho Sigma session Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Moon, who has just completed a survey of leading gynecological and obstetrical institutions all over the world, paid high tribute to the system in effect at Grady hospital's maternity ward, saying that regardless of handicaps of equipment and funds, the local unit is doing a remarkable work. In his address Dr. Moon lauded the efforts of Dr. James R. McCord, of the Emory University medical faculty in charge of instruction work at Grady hospital.

Following election of officers by the medical fraternity this morning, which include selection of the grand council for the ensuing two years, the report of the chapter budgeting committee, bookkeeping group, committee on fraternal funds, and of the permanent funds of the fraternity will be delivered. A sight-seeing trip over Atlanta, organization meeting of the newly elected grand council and ball will bring the Phi Rho Sigma session to a close.

Delta Sigma Phi will also stage a dance, to which delegates, their wives and friends have been invited. Senator James J. Davis, of Pennsylvania, who was scheduled to speak before the Delta Sigma Phi convention Tuesday, was unable to attend. It was reported from Washington, D. C., Tuesday night.

ALPHARETTA CHIEF RELEASED ON BOND

Chief of Police J. R. Farr, of Alpharetta, and his sons, Bass and Edgar Farr, Tuesday were released from Fulton tower under bonds of $750 each. The father and sons were jailed as the result of an altercation in Milton county on Christmas Day, when Gentle Wood and Ed Gunter were wounded.

Wood and Gunter were riding in an automobile, and Farr and his sons attempted to arrest Wood and Gunter and two other persons, Bass and Edgar Farr having been deputized, it was said.

9 MEN ARRESTED FOR CAR-BREAKING

Theft of goods valued at a total of $929 was charged Tuesday in car-breaking indictments returned by the Fulton grand jury. In one true bill J. A. Ray, W. M. Kimbrell, Ernest Haynes, Gordon Mathis, R. K. Kelly and Slim Lowry are charged with stealing merchandise valued at $200 from an L. & N. car on December 10, and in another bill, Ray, Kimbrell, Haynes, Mathis, Harry Ashkin, Will Baker and Sam Shields are charged with taking $720 in cigarettes from a Southern railway car on November 11.

$12,000,000 SPENT ON ROADS IN 1931

The state highway board held its last meeting Tuesday and checked the "odds and ends" of a year that showed the expenditure of approximately $12,000,000 for road construction in Georgia.

When the board reassembles next year to make plans, Jud P. Wilhoit, of Warrenton, will succeed John R. Phillips, of Louisville, as a member. No future plans were discussed at Tuesday's meeting.

GERMANY TO PROTECT SECURITY HOLDERS

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Foreigners holding German mortgages acquired through investment trusts or similar institutions are entitled to the originally stipulated interest, the government ruled Monday in clearing up one of the problems arising from the reduction of interest rates in its recent emergency decree.

The decree, issued December 8, lowered the interest rate on loans, bonds and mortgages to 6 per cent where it was as high as 8 per cent, and cut it 25 per cent to 50 per cent where it was higher.

Foreigners who loaned money on mortgages or bought German mortgage bonds would have to submit to the interest reductions, it was held officially, but those who acquired mortgages through investment trust or similar institutions were exempted because the institutions otherwise would have serious trouble with their clients, with prejudice to future credit transactions as a result.

HUGH THORNTON DIES AT ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

Hugh Thornton, brother of Lenox Thornton, registrar of vital statistics of the state public health department, formerly of Atlanta, died Tuesday at his residence in St. Petersburg, Fla. The body will be brought here today for funeral services and interment. The arrangements to be announced by Brandon, Bond & Condon.

Mr. Thornton had been residing in the Florida city for some time because of ill health. Besides his brother, he is survived by his wife, another brother, F. J. Thornton, of New York, and one sister, Mrs. Maude T. Baker, of Atlanta.

DEMOCRATS FACE TAX PLAN, TARIFF

Both Issues Are Being Studied With View to Action in Next 2 Months.

BY CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—A balanced tax plan to draw an even flow of revenues into the treasury from sources best able to bear the cost of government and a tariff act to stimulate foreign and domestic trade are the goal of congressional democrats.

Although there are some differences of opinion among senate and house leaders as to the methods of increasing revenue to meet the prospective $2,000,000,000 treasury deficit, they are in accord on the general idea of making the wealthy carry the biggest load.

Speaker Garner said today that neither the democratic organization nor the party's joint senate-house policy committee had agreed upon the technical phases of the tax program or the tariff proposal. Both are being studied with a view to presenting bills for action within the next two months.

The Texas did disclose that the democrats expect to increase annual revenues by $200,000,000 without making additional levies. As he outlined it, the plan calls for amendments to existing laws to close the loopholes through which big corporations and individuals of large incomes evade tax payments.

Garner's Survey.

Garner made an exhaustive study of court decisions in tax appeal cases during the summer months for the purpose of offering amendments to stop the loopholes. Some of these, he said, were left intentionally in the original laws.

As to the tariff, Garner predicted the democrats would offer a bill designed to revive commerce with foreign countries, but declined to divulge its probable nature. However, Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the democratic leader, said today it probably would be a reciprocal measure.

He has sponsored such a bill, calling for a lowering of duties to meet those of foreign countries. However, he noted today that many foreign nations have gone off of the gold standard and tariff values have become confused and uncertain, since some countries are operating on inflated currency.

In democratic quarters the suggestion that the tariff law be revised to make the tariff commission recommend changes in duties to congress instead of to the president has gained support, Rainey said.

Mellon Tax Plan.

Explaining that he had shifted his views in favor of the retroactive tax plan offered by Secretary Mellon and sponsored by Representative Snell, of New York, the republican leader, Rainey said today that it is brutal, but must be enacted if we are going to raise the money necessary to meet government expenditures.

Chairman Collier, of the ways and means committee, differed with his leader on the retroactive plan as well as Rainey's proposal to abolish the capital gains and loss act. The Mississippi democrat said the retroactive plan was "unjust, and might prove very disturbing to business."

He added he would "not resort to it until every other method of raising revenue had been exhausted."

Garner, Rainey and Collier are agreed on a plan to increase taxes on big incomes, levy a gift tax, and impose a special estate tax. They are opposed to a general sales tax. They are studying the possible returns of excise, luxury and similar tax proposals.

Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills, of the treasury, are to be called before the ways and means committee next week for hearings on the administration's tax program, Collier said. He expects the tax bill to be ready for house action February 1.

NOVEMBER-DECEMBER GRAND JURY RELEASED

Members of the November-December term Fulton county grand jury will be able to enjoy the New Year holiday without the burden of office hanging heavy over their heads, following their discharge Tuesday by Judge G. H. Howard.

Judge Howard complimented the jurors on adjourning for the term without returning voluminous presentments, and Foreman George J. Yundt wished Judge Howard the season's greetings on behalf of his fellow members of the jury. Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens said that the grand jury was dismissed in order that the members might enjoy the holidays without being under restraint as officials.

The following citizens have been drawn for service on the January-February term jury under the recent act enlarging the grand jury list to nearly 5,000 names, and will be sworn in Monday by Judge E. D. Thomas:

Winners of Good Samaritan Prize Contest Are Announced

Weekly prize winners in the Good Samaritan contest ending December 26 were announced on Tuesday. Four cash prizes are offered every week to church and charity organizations in the contest.

The first prize of $80 was won by the Western Heights Baptist church, Mrs. F. R. Martin, chairman. Over a half-million votes were cast by Mrs. Martin's organization. With a record vote of nearly 400,000 the Gordon Street Baptist church, Mrs. C. T. Knight, chairman, won second place and a cash prize of $35. Not far behind was the Capitol View Methodist church which, voting for the first time in the contest, took third prize and $25. Mrs. A. H. Parnell is chairman.

The order of Rebekah, third district of Georgia, won for the fourth time and took fourth place and $12. Mrs. E. H. Hughes, chairman of this group, is very enthusiastic and says she and her co-workers expect to take more and larger prizes during the campaign.

More churches and charity groups are entering every week, and enthusiasm increases as the contest progresses. The Good Samaritan Buying Campaign is sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution, which gives $130 each week to the churches and charities of Atlanta. Information about the campaign may be had at campaign headquarters, 137 Peachtree Arcade building.

NEW BRITISH TARIFF HITS FRUITS, FLOWERS

Vegetables Classified as Luxuries Listed in Schedule Affected.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Duties which will be imposed during certain periods of the year on a long list of fruits, vegetables and flowers under the government's emergency tariff measures were announced by the board of agriculture tonight.

The commodities chiefly affected are those which have been imported in recent years in great quantities from France, Belgium, Holland and other continental neighbors of Great Britain at seasons of the year before the maturing of the British crops.

New potatoes are to be taxed from January 5 to February 29 at 18 shillings eight pence (nominally about $4.50) per 100 pounds and from March 1 to 31 at nine shillings four pence (about $2.25). Cherries are to be taxed about six cents a pound between May 1 and June 30, asparagus 20 cents a pound between January 1 and February 29 and strawberries 60 cents a pound between April 1 and May 31. Cut flowers will bear a duty of four cents a pound.

POLAND PLACES EMBARGO ON NUMEROUS IMPORTS

WARSAW, Poland, Dec. 29.—(AP)—An embargo on certain classes of goods that are imported into Poland, and increased duties on all others will become effective January 1, it was officially announced tonight.

The new schedule has been designed to protect Poland's favorable trade balance and to serve as a counter move against tariff restrictions of other nations.

Apparently the United States will be unaffected by the new regulations, the chief nations hit being Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia.

300 CLASSES AFFECTED BY POLISH SCHEDULE

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Warsaw correspondent of the Associated Press reported that 300 classes of merchandise will be affected by the new Polish importation regulations, most of them being machinery, electrical articles and textiles.

8.03 MILES BUILT BY SEWER DIVISION

The sewer division of the department of construction this year has constructed 8.03 miles of sewer, at a cost of $112,866.79, according to the annual report filed Tuesday by the sewer committee by Henry Benson, engineer of sewers.

This pushes the total value of Atlanta's sewerage system to $7,041,457.87, the report shows. Of the total mileage, 3,167 miles of funds of the 1928 sewer bond issue, 4,123 in lateral sewers, 6,002 miles of house connections and 737 miles of lateral sewers constructed under private contract.

A total of 170 surface closets were eliminated through 1931 construction, as against 59 in 1930.

DRY WOMEN NAME WILLIAM G. M'ADOO

The Democratic Dry Women of Georgia, Atlanta chapter, Tuesday adopted a resolution to support William G. M'Adoo for president on a dry democratic ticket at a meeting held in the Henry Grady hotel.

The resolution came as the climax of a talk given by the Hon. E. C. Hubler, national prohibition worker and editor of the California Voice, a paper devoted to prohibition. Miss Hubler flayed wet democrats and charged that "a few multi-millionaires are behind the move to repeal the eighteenth amendment."

About 75 people attended the meeting which was opened by a short talk by former Congressman W. D. Upshaw.

1931 Shatters Scores of Records With Heat But Does Little Harm

BY MELBOURNE CHRISTERSON.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The fellow who kept repeating through most of 1931, "Gosh, it's hot," really had something to talk about.

Official records of the weather bureau show the year now closing as the warmest on record for nearly every state.

While generally there was an excess of high temperatures, there also was a noticeable lack of disturbing and costly weather phenomena, such as severe tropical storms and tornadoes and devastating floods.

Surrounded by his charts and figures, J. B. Kincer, meteorologist, termed the excessive warmth the outstanding feature of 1931.

He traced it to a persisting arrangement of low pressure areas in the north and high pressure areas in the south which let in warm winds from southern waters.

The last memorable year was 1921, Kincer said today he believed 1931 to be the culmination of twelve years of warm weather dating back to the unusually cold winter of 1917-1918.

Two bad drought spells, however, spoiled the year's weather map. The first occurred in the spring in the northern states of Montana, North and South Dakota. Thousands of farmers required assistance when their feed crops were destroyed.

About the time fall rains relieved the drought in the north, the southeast, centering in Georgia and South Carolina. They could not, however, compare with the great dry period last year.

Five tropical storms sprang up in the Caribbean last summer, but none touched the United States. Floods were local in character with the exception of the one now periling lives in Mississippi.

The winter of 1931, generally speaking, was open and mild with one of the lightest falls of snow ever recorded. In some states new low temperature marks were registered, but by and large, blizzards and winter storms were the exception.

The excess of high temperatures over normal for the year was built up in the months of January and February, June and July, September, October and November.

The northern half of the country was comparatively warmer than the southern half, with the greatest excess centering in the northern plains states—North and South Dakota and Minnesota.

Huron, S. D., was relatively the hottest place in the country, taking the year as a whole. The accumulated excess of temperature up to December 1 was 2,151 degrees, or an average of 6 1/2 degrees above normal every day.

The heat of the past summer was blamed for scores of deaths.

The eastern half of the country has experienced the warmest December on record. Thus far, there is virtually no snow and ice outside of the high mountain ranges.

1932 Will Be Year of Brunettes, Manhattan Hair Dressers Predict

BY JANE EADS.
NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Nineteen thirty-two will be a brunette year, according to the hair dressers of Manhattan's popular hairdressers predicted today.

"The platinum blonde craze, were it to continue for another year, would be a race of bald women," one asserted.

For those women who have dyed their chestnut or raven locks extremely blonde there is only one sure way to avoid the telltale widening band of dark hair as the hair grows out.

The hair must be bobbed quite short and the color of the dye of the desired color, until their own crowning glory, growing longer, edges out the last traces of its blonde bleach.

There is a decided swing backward to femininity in all of the fashion forecasts for the new year and the hair styles must follow suit.

The back hair will be longer, long enough to curl softly over the edge of the neckline. The new wave will have a continuity that makes the head attractive from any angle and may start at the side front and progress in a gently rising line around the head to the other side.

The new windblown bob shows a fringe on one side of the head with the rest of the hair softly waved backward and downward.

While it is expected there will be more bobbed heads than ever before, three new fashions have been created for long hair. Long hair must be bunched out and formed to a low knot that does not conceal the shape of the head; or divided into two parts which may be folded into flat little buns. The coronet style is suggested for very long hair.

Many hairdressers say the long bob will be best, because it lends itself more particularly to individual treatment and is in keeping with the current apparel mode. Flat little plastic curls at the back of the head, and little rolls at the temples, as well as the back of the neck, are emphasized.

Combs, pins and ornaments will complement most of the evening coiffures. These may be of metal, or celluloid, or they will be brilliantly encrusted with gems.

WALL STREET CRASH LAID AT YOUTHS' FEET

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The impetuous spirit of youth was responsible for the 1929 stock market collapse, several leading New York bankers said today in answering a senate committee's charge that large Wall Street banks must bear the blame.

In the frenzied speculative orgy of 1928 and 1929, they recalled, the cautious warnings of some of America's older economists and business men were brushed aside. This, they said, was just as true in the commercial and professional fields, as it was in banking and brokerage circles. The advice that "youth will be served" was the watchword of the age, it was said, and conservative advice was scorned.

Last week's report of a sub-committee of the United States senate committee on banking and currency said large Wall Street banks had betted the stock market crash by permitting an overgrowth of loans by banks to brokers "for the account of the economy."

The report also criticized the formation by banks of security affiliations.

DEATH TO BE ASKED FOR UNION LEADER

MOUNT STERLING, Ky., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Indications that the prosecution will seek the death penalty for W. H. Lightner, Harlan county mine union president, were given today by the grand jury when he was summoned to try him on a charge of murder, conspiracy and aiding and abetting in connection with the fight in which three men were slain last May 5 near Evans, Ky.

The veniremen were asked whether they had scruples against the death penalty, whether they were members of labor union or were prejudiced against the unions, or whether they already had formed opinions in the case. Several were excused after answering the last question in the affirmative.

Counsel for both sides expected to have the jury selected before tomorrow night.

HISTORIANS DISCARD ALL BUNK-ANDREWS

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 29.—(AP)—"Prejudice, loose statements and sweeping generalizations have been thrown into the scrap heap" by scholars reviving American history, Dr. Charles McLean Andrews, Yale professor, told the Virginia Historical Society today.

"First opinions, traditional beliefs and impressions are yielding to the newer impulse," he said.

Dr. Andrews, who was introduced by Governor Pollard, spoke of the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the society which had chief Justice John Marshall as its first president.

VIRGINIAN RAILWAY NEW INCOME DROPS

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Virginia railway reported net income of $146,738 for the month of November, compared with $328,804 in the same month last year, it was said in the monthly report made public today. This brought the total net income for the first 11 months of the year to $2,988,368, against $3,968,541 during the same period of 1930.

Operating revenues declined from $1,340,196 in November of 1930, to $1,101,820 last month.

Atlantans Married 60 Years Celebrate

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pace, 1286 Metropolitan avenue, Monday celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage in Henry county. Mr. Pace Tuesday said their peaceful married life has been unmarred by family spats.

They are the parents of three living children, 14 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Mrs. Pace is 77 and Mr. Pace is 83 years old. Both have enjoyed good health. Mr. Pace attributes his health to the fact that he has always been a hard-working and sober man.

The couple, popular and well liked in their neighborhood, has a large number of friends who wish them many more happy wedding anniversaries.

Human Behavior Is Being Studied Through Language

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 29.—(AP)—If the Linguistic Society of America can discover the reasons why people talk as they do, President G. M. Bolling says it may uncover some of the mysteries of human behavior.

"We have no trouble with inanimate things and little with animals," he said, "therefore, languages may have some relation to our difficulties."

Professor Bolling said one of the major activities of the society at present is a study of the English language as spoken on the North American continent. Research workers are seeking to learn how Americans talk.

"We are seeking to learn, for instance, who says 'show' when meaning 'tell' and who says 'show' when meaning 'show'." Professor Bolling explained. "We are studying the geographical and social bounds around communities."

"We should not call their peculiarities in speech provincialisms. They are real, and there is a reason for them. We first are studying them, and then learn what the reason is and why."

This, he said, is an important part of what is meant by a scientific study of language. The society is working on the theory that the accumulation of such detail may lead, directly or indirectly, to a better knowledge of human behavior.

Asked today about the possibility of a world language, Professor Bolling said "there is no fear of it."

STUDENTS OPPOSE MILITARY TRAINING

TOLEDO, Ohio, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Opposition to compulsory military training in American colleges and universities was voted today by the congress of the National Student Federation.

The congress, which is made up of delegates from nearly 300 American universities enrolling 300,000 students, informed America's entry into the World Court and into the League of Nations.

Armed intervention to protect American investments abroad was deplored and arbitration as substitute for force in settling international disputes was urged.

The vote on compulsory military training was 94 to 24.

HUGE GROWTH SHOWN BY PUBLIC LIBRARIES

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Here's a business that shows an increase of $169,945 over last year!

It's the public library business and the increase is the number of free books borrowed from the libraries of 36 of the larger cities. In only three of those cities did the library circulation drop in 1931. The reduction, as compared with books taken out in 1930, was 600,000 in Chicago; 100,000 in Birmingham, and 20,000 in Omaha.

BEN LYON IS ACCUSED OF STRIKING YOUTH

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Charles Cradick, attorney for Cedric Lamar, 18, film studio office boy, announced today he had written Ben Lyon, motion picture actor and husband of Bebe Daniels, suggesting settlement of the charges.

The boy, who was injured when he was struck by a moving picture car, said he had no recollection of the incident.

The attorney said Lamar told him Lyon was angry because the office boy would not let Miss Daniels see him.

Lyon or notify him on a movie sound stage a few days ago, Lamar said. Lyon, cast as a boxer in a movie role, upbraided him and struck him down with a blow to the jaw.

The boy said he had orders not to disturb anyone on a set and had told Miss Daniels he would try to have someone defend for her husband.

FLORIDA SEEKS FUNDS FOR FAIR EXHIBITS

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, said today a statewide campaign to raise between $150,000 and $200,000 "to re-educate the Florida people" through exhibits at the Chicago World Fair in 1932, would be started soon.

ICY WINTER BLASTS SWEEP OVER EUROPE

Death and Suffering Reported in Many Areas as Result of Cold.

BY P. H. MYRING.
LONDON, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Winter's icy blasts swept a large area of Europe today, bringing death to some of the homeless and underfed, lashing seas to fury, and causing discomfort and suffering in many places.

Far in the south, where winter usually is a faint parody of the season in northern climes, the peaks of Monte Rosa were covered with snow. Fifteen waifs were found dead from cold in the Lisbon district.

At the other end of the continent, snow piles struggled through drifts that impeded Finns from recording their vote in the prohibition referendum.

Between these extreme points, London, Paris and Berlin experienced piercing winds and snow, although London and southeast England thus far have escaped the blizzards that have piled up drifts several feet deep in the Scottish glens and the Yorkshire moors.

Snow fell on Dartmoor tonight, however. In other parts of Britain's "west country" there were high winds, heavy rain and hail.

Cold, rain and snow were general throughout France. A freak storm springing up on the channel coast, in the Trouville region, sent fishing boats scurrying for shelter and disrupted coal navigation.

A gale has raged on the Baltic since Christmas. Last night there were fears it had caused the loss of 15 persons in a salvage vessel which went to the rescue of the freighter Orion, which went aground off Hel-singfors, Finland.

As a result of this same gale, almost a hundredweight of amber was cast ashore at Crans, Germany.

Intense cold experienced in Rome over Christmas has been followed by two days of heavy rain.

Heavy snow has fallen on the northern ranges of Spain, but the chief losses have escaped the blizzards and the recent extreme cold wave in the southern provinces showed signs of abating.

Winter's clutch stretched over the European frontier into Asia. Reports from Tehran were that Persia was having freezing weather which had caused many deaths. The cold, however, had not yet reached the coast of checking the cholera epidemic.

STATE BANK CHIEF TO CUT PERSONNEL

Arrival Tuesday of R. Emmett Gormley, of Culbert, who will succeed W. J. Davis as state superintendent of banks, brought the announcement of a cut in the department effective January 1, when Gormley goes into office.

Gormley was named last summer to head the banking department for the state, beginning January 1. In the meantime, A. B. Mobley, superintendent, resigned and the law required the appointment of Davis until the beginning of Gormley's term.

The work which was done by Davis prior to his appointment as superintendent and that of J. E. Denmark, now chief clerk, will be combined, and the position of assistant commissioner assigned to E. B. Douglas, now an examiner in the department, Gormley announced.

Gormley, whose family arrived with him Tuesday to make their home in Atlanta, has been the cashier of the Georgia Bank and Trust Company at Culbert, where he was the first appointee of Governor Russell.

ATLANTA COMPANY IS GIVEN CONTRACT

The O. B. Andrews Company, Atlanta manufacturer of boxes and containers, has been awarded a contract by the Alabama-Georgia Syrup Company of Montgomery to supply it with containers for its Alabama syrup.

News of the contract came through a display of the syrup company's products in a show window at 209 Peachtree street.

TALMADGE'S FINAL STORY IN BULLETIN

The final editorial, or political article, from the pen of Eugene Talmadge, long-time editor of the Bulletin, will appear in the Market Bulletin today. Beginning with the issue of January 15, Talmadge will regularly edit a page in The Southern Cultivator.

After describing the legislative act which prohibits him from further writing in the department's official organ, the dedicating of the new building for good purpose to the farmers in helping them to sell, exchange and buy produce, Talmadge says:

"I do not want to jeopardize this medium of exchange by attempting to put other matter in it that would cause withholding of the warrant to pay for the Bulletin."

MASTER SERGEANT RETIRED AT FORT

Officers of Fort McPherson paid honor to an enlisted man for 30 years' faithful service Tuesday night when Brigadier General George H. Estes, commander of the camp, presided at a dinner given to signalize the retirement of Master Sergeant William P. Gardner. Special guests were Captain Mark V. Brannon, Captain Hubert W. Bryant, Lieutenant Robert S. Williams and Warrant Officer J. M. Elliott, and members of the quartermaster detachment.

Sergeant Gardner's service has been varied, ranging from serving on a dispatch boat during the Spanish-American War to duty as a marine in Cuba. He was transferred to the army infantry and saw service at Camp Gordon in 1917. He will take up civil abode with Mrs. Gardner, who was formerly Mrs. Lillian Stevens, at 1288 DeKalb avenue, N. E.

BOLTON AUTO VICTIM REPORTED NEAR DEATH

Alex Sewell, 16, of Bolton, who was struck from his bicycle by a Marietta road Christmas, was reported to be still in a critical condition Tuesday night at Grady hospital. It was said he had lapsed into unconsciousness. His skull was fractured.

The condition of Willard Roper, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Roper of Roswell, who was struck down by an automobile near his home, remained serious Tuesday night, hospital authorities said. His skull also was fractured, but physicians said he has a fighting chance to recover.

Waycross Improves Finances By $278,000 in Four Years

South Georgia City Changes Deficit of $182,000 Into Surplus of More Than $85,000.

BY H. A. STALLINGS.
WAYCROSS, Ga., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Changing a current deficit on December 31, 1927, of $182,043.88 into current estimated surplus on December 31, 1931, of $85,965.08 is the outstanding financial record of the Waycross city commission which will conclude its tenure in office this week.

If all due the city on December 31, 1927, had been paid in and the city in turn had paid all it owed, it would have been in debt $182,043.88.

On December 31, 1931, if all due the city is paid in and the city pays all it owes, the city will have in cash in the bank a surplus of $85,965.08.

This is an improvement in the financial condition of the city. The city is now operating practically on a cash basis. It has not borrowed a penny during 1931 for operating expenses; has not had to pay a penny of interest for operating expenses, and is operating within its budget.

Not only has the current indebtedness of the city been wiped out during this administration and a surplus established, but the cost of operating the city has been reduced materially. The total cost, ordinary and extraordinary, of operating the city for 1927 was $239,034.92; for 1928 it was $280,937.55; for 1929 it was $292,772.72; for 1930 it was $270,066.23. The budget for 1931 was $231,178.61 and on November 15 the auditor's report for the first 10 months of the year showed the city to be $7,365 under the budget.

During these four years while the current deficit was being converted into a current surplus, the bonded debt of the city was taken care of. Not a single bond falling due was defaulted and today the sinking fund is up to schedule.

While the financial improvement of the city is the outstanding achievement of the present administration, notable advances have been made in other lines, among these being:

The city waterworks was electrified and the cost of operation materially reduced.

A $175,000 bond issue was passed for construction purposes.

The city assisted materially in the passage of a $150,000 bond issue for a new Ware county hospital.

The first milk pasteurization ordinance in the state was passed, prohibiting the sale within the city of any unpasteurized milk.

All dairy cows were tested for abortion—the first city in Georgia to have the benefit of such a test.

An extensive campaign for mosquito control was conducted, more than 2,000 gallons of oil being used annually in this work.

Appropriations were made for assisting in the holding of tuberculosis clinics for children.

DREWRY ADDRESSES U. S. JOURNALISM BODY

Georgia Professor Urges Permanent Committee on Relations With Editors.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Dec. 20.—(AP)—John E. Drewry, professor of journalism at the University of Georgia, today recommended to the American Association of Teachers of Journalism that a joint committee on relations with newspaper editors be made permanent.

Professor Drewry, a former president of the Teachers' Association, was chairman of the teachers' representatives who met with delegates from the Association of Schools and Departments of Journalism, the American Editorial Association and the American Society of Newspaper Editors this year to consider standards for education and practice in journalism.

The two editors' groups already have approved the suggestion that the committee be made permanent.

Professor Drewry told the teachers, meeting at the University of Minnesota, that if the work of the joint committee were carried on vigorously "perhaps ultimate peace of mind and professional status of journalism as it is associated in the popular mind with 'Ling's gangsters, and tabloid picture thieves'."

He gave credit for the idea of joint effort to President Fuller Sheed, Philadelphia, of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"Professional status," the speaker said, "is very definitely associated with the opportunity to attract and graduate who have been educated in the accredited manner."

"Before newspaper work is to be an attractive and profitable and intelligent youngsters, there must be evolved a new theory of economics in journalism. Employing executives must be convinced that their individual newspapers and journalism as a whole, will be immeasurably benefited by a system which, on the one hand, bars from journalism education those of mediocre education and faulty character; and which, on the other hand, has a basis of remuneration which will commend the profession to the public."

He quoted from an editorial in Editor and Publisher by Ole Buck, who wrote:

"Thoughtful newspapermen are agreed that newspaper work should be a real profession, that it is essential for the public to deal with public opinion to have professional standing as it is for the man who deals with physical ills, or personal wrongs."

Drewry expressed agreement with Buck's opinion that the raising of journalistic standards was a matter to be handled by the profession and not by legal means.

Peach Countians Fight Effort To Move Court House Offices

PORT VALLEY, Ga., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Peach county judges are all stirred up over an effort to move the courthouse offices and court room. The fight has reached the courts.

M. C. Mosley, ordinary and county manager, is said to have ordered the present offices vacated on January 1 and new quarters in buildings owned by W. L. House, occupied by George H. Slapney, was the present courthouse site.

Peach county is the baby county of the state, being created by act of the legislature and starting out with its own government on January 1, 1925. The offices were quartered in an old theater building on a principal street of the city.

Norman English, representing a group of taxpayers of Peach county, has brought a temporary injunction to prevent the removal of the courthouse offices and courtroom to buildings owned by Mr. House.

Judge Louis L. Brown has assigned the case for hearing on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the present Peach county courthouse building.

It is alleged in the petition for permanent injunction that the proposed courthouse site is not a desirable one for the baby county of the state. It is alleged further, among other things, that the law has not been complied with in providing a courthouse for the county.

Among the petitioners are S. Halpin, H. P. Halpin, J. D. Fagan, R. P. Little and W. M. Wright; it is stated, Mr. Slapney's name does not appear on the list.

GEORGE TO URGE U. S. SALARY REDUCTIONS

MACON, Ga., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Senator Walter F. George, in an interview Tuesday night on the eve of his departure for Washington, declared that he will offer legislation to give President Hoover blanket authority to consolidate, combine or abolish federal bureaus, and independent agencies which, in the president's opinion, may be merged or abolished without prejudice to the public interest. The Georgia senator also declared that he would support the proposed legislation for the reduction of salaries in the federal service, including those of the president and members of the cabinet.

"Retrenchment and economy have become imperative necessities in the federal service," Senator George asserted. "If the national budget is to be balanced, further, if retrenchment and economy are to receive anything more than lip service in this session of Congress, there must be a present readjustment of federal salaries and the merger, combination or abolition of the over-multiplied bureaus, bureaus of medicine, education, and other agencies."

"I shall offer and actively press the passage of an act to give the president blanket authority to consolidate or abolish such bureaus as, in his judgment, he believes can be so dealt with and without prejudice to the public service."

He declared himself to be firmly opposed to any reduction or cancellation of war debts owing to the United States by European countries. He branded the effort to secure reduction or cancellation as propaganda fostered by a group of international bankers who had false foreign securities in the United States.

"I am convinced," despite statements to the contrary," he stated, "that Germany is able to pay her war debts in full. It is the United States, in regard to reduction or war debts cancellation is not binding on future congresses."

It is also true," he pointed out, "that the Volstead act was not binding on subsequent congresses. Yet, nevertheless, it remains a law. The same may be said of a constitutional amendment."

Miss Clara Knox and Mr. Bell Wed at Church in Social Circle, Ga.

SOCIAL CIRCLE, Ga., Dec. 29.—Of unusual dignity and beauty and centering the interest of many friends and relatives throughout the state was the wedding of Miss Clara Knox, of Social Circle, and John Bell, of Monroe, La. The nuptials were solemnized Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Baptist church in Social Circle in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends. Rev. R. A. Smith, the bride's pastor, performing the ceremony.

The interior of the church was effectively decorated. Small pines were used as the background for the palms and ferns and southern smilax, which transformed the altar into a veritable bower of greenery. Small pines were also placed at the windows, and the choir loft was backed with ferns. There was a tracery of smilax forming a frieze around the walls of the church.

Standing in relief among the palms were seven candelabra holding white burning tapers, and lending an added touch of beauty to the scene. Immense wicker baskets of white lilies and large tulle bows on the altar were placed at intervals at the front near the altar formed a lovely contrast to the palms and other foliage plants. The news reserved for the family were roped off with wide satin ribbon.

Before and during the ceremony an appropriate program of music was rendered by Miss Sherrie Rowe, of Social Circle, and Miss Lou Turner, of Covington, close friends of the bride. Preceding the ceremony Miss Rowe played "Evening Star," from Wagner, and "Liebestraum," from Liszt. Just before the bride entered Miss Turner sang "All For You," by Taylor, and "My World," by Lander. During the ceremony Miss Rowe played "To a Wild Rose," by McDowell, and after the young couple pledged their troth Miss Turner sang "Calm as the Night," by Bohm.

The wedding march was rendered for the processional, and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

The ushers were Howell Lott and Joe Adams, of Monroe, and Walter Herndon and Joe Sigman, of Social Circle.

Lovely Bride.
The bride and groom entered together and were met at the altar by the officiating minister. The gown worn by the bride was the one worn by her mother 21 years ago when as the beautiful Gertrude Funk, daughter of the late George W. Funk and Clara Barnes Funk, of Loganport, Ind., she became the wife of Mr. A. S. Stevens. It was an exquisite gown of white crepe satin, beautifully embroidered, made long princess lines. The yoke and sleeves were of rich lace. The bride's veil was of tulle edged with real lace. This was fitted close to the head in a cap of lace caught to the bride's coronal hair with orange blossoms. Her only jewels, a strand of beautiful pearls. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses showered with lilies of the valley and tied with satin ribbon.

Following the ceremony over 300 guests were entertained at the Knox home on Monroe street. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Funk, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Weyman Bell, parents of the groom.

Mrs. Knox wore a black velvet gown with the waist of embroidered velvet, and a hat of horsehair braid. She wore a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Funk's costume was of black satin and her hat was of straw. Her flowers were roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Bell's gown was black lace with velvet coat trimmed with ermine, and her corsage was roses and valley lilies. She wore a chic hat of black lace.

The bride's book was kept by Miss Clara Knox, who was a friend of the bride, and Miss Moore.

The guests will include Misses Harriet Wynne, Jessamine Moore, Catherine Fleming, Helen Smith, Anne Ridley, Elizabeth Thompson, Mesdames Marion Watson, Joseph Raine and H. Clay Moore.

TARZAN THE TERRIBLE No. 87

Following the winding river, Tarzan finally arrived at the Dark City, Mo-sar having gained his stronghold before the ape-man. He had just entered his palace when a breathless warrior was ushered into his presence. "The Dor-ul-Otho has come to Tulur, demanding to see you at once," cried the man. "The son of the god?" exclaimed Mo-sar. "That is the message he sent," replied the warrior. "Indeed he must be, for no human being would dare thus to come alone to a strange city."

AIR NEWS

WHAT WITH United Air Lines snatching rates by from 10 to 20 per cent on its coast-to-coast and connecting routes, and Transcontinental & Western Air following suit Tuesday with even more drastic reductions, it is being projected that American Airways Inc., and Eastern Air Transport Inc. it would appear—strictly from the standpoint of a layman—that no substantial reductions may be expected until fairly late in the spring, if then. United, it is believed, is being forced to cut its rates solely to bolster its passenger traffic; T. & W. A., operating the central route across the continent as a direct competitor of United, was forced to cut or see all of its business go to the northern route.

American Airways, on the other hand, is no competitor of the two more northern lines and its route, which extends from Atlanta across the southern section of the country, ordinarily is so free from fog and clouds that few trips are lost during the winter because of the elements. Its patronage probably would maintain the same upward curve regardless of what the Transcontinental & Western Air Transport Inc. does with their tariffs. Eastern Air Transport Inc., with a monopoly on the air service between the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf of Mexico, has announced a substantial cut a few weeks ago and probably will make no further reductions for several months.

On Tuesday, the limited to Atlanta field to add interest to the annual pilgrimage of local airmen to the All-American Air Races, which will be held this year January 7, 8 and 9. The present plan is to raise a pot of $50 or so, figure out a handicapping formula and then put the pilots on their honor to land at the field in the shortest time possible. Doug Davis, who plans to enter several events in his fast Travel Air speedster, is having his motor tuned up at the Candler field hangar; George Shealy probably will fly the ship to Miami and meet Doug there. Others who plan to attend are Jim Williams in his Waco "P"; Bill Hunter and Cody Laird in their co-owned Fleet; Edward Matthews in his Great Lakes; Hank Prichard in his Challenger; Robin, with Jimmy Perry, probably, doing the flying, and, possibly, Beeler Blevins, if Asa Candler decides to take in the event.

Miami is expected to see its skies almost completely blotted by the presence of the army, the navy and the marine corps are sending large fleets of planes, and the glider aircraft carrier, the Langley, will be on hand, together with the tender Wright. Both France and Ecuador are sending silver prizes and trophies to be awarded. The comprehensive program, in addition to a number of stunt events never before staged at a Miami meet, will include contests for planes of all types and classes, free-for-all, bomb-dropping contests, dead stick landing events, aerobatics and parachute drops.

Boosting the movement inaugurated here some time ago to adjust the inequitable state law requiring airplane operators to pay a gasoline tax which is used for the building of automobile roads, Dean Parks, who operates an air service at Gainesville, recently wrote to Governor Russell, asking relief from the obviously unjust levy. In his letter, Parks urges that the tax be distributed to all airplanes and not to the few who operate the automobiles better roads.

The Piletrin Autogiro, belonging to the Piletrin Ring Company, of Muskegon, Mich., which was flown here last Saturday by Don Walker, noted pilot of "moon planes," left Tuesday for Athens and Augusta and other southern points with its ultimate destination the Miami races. But its place will be taken in a day or so by a Kellett Autogiro, which will be flown here from the Pennsylvania factory on demonstration tour.

LEGION TO CONTINUE FIGHT FOR JOBLESS

200,000 Ex-Servicemen Already Given Jobs Through Organization.

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The American Legion has already found jobs for 200,000 of the nation's 750,000 unemployed ex-servicemen, and is now determined to fight against the whole problem, said Henry L. Stevens Jr., national commander, during a visit here.

He predicted that far-reaching results would be obtained from the meeting of the Legion's unemployment commission in New York January 5 and 6. He is chairman of the commission.

"What we are engaged in now is attempting to find relief for the entire army of 600,000 unemployed and we will not confine our activities to ex-servicemen," he declared.

The Legion is definitely committed to establishment of the six-hour day, five-day week, the commander said.

Southern Continents Always Separated, Declares Geologist

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—The theory that continents do not float was advanced in a paper at the annual meeting of the Geological Society of America today.

Dr. Bailey Willis, of Stanford University, in advancing the theory, said it was his belief that Africa and South America did not break away from each other, despite the fact their coast lines are similar. He said, however, that during the Permian age, some 60 to 100 million years ago, plant and animal life migrated from Africa westward to South America and eastward to India along mountain ranges which he estimated rose as high as 15,000 feet from the bottom of the sea.

The society today chose Boston as the 1932 meeting place and announced the election of Dr. R. A. Daly, of Harvard University, as president, succeeding Dr. Alfred C. Lane. The meeting will continue through Thursday.

FOURER ATLANTA MAN FOUND DEAD IN MIAMI

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 29.—(AP)—J. B. Asbury, 36, former government employee at Fort McPherson, Ga., was found dead under a clump of bushes in a residential section of Miami today. Police found a poison bottle lying near the body which was discovered by two boys.

Mrs. Asbury reported him missing earlier in the day. They came here about two weeks ago from Atlanta, where Asbury had been ill in health for some time. He resigned his government position in order to come here.

The body will be sent to Atlanta tomorrow night.

Records at Fort McPherson Tuesday showed that J. B. Asbury, referred to in Miami dispatches as having apparently ended his life, was formerly a member of the finance department of the ordnance corps at the local army post. He had been ill for about a month, records showed, and recently was placed in a hospital, from which he was discharged recently.

Hearing on the application for removal of St. Mary's hospital from its present Windsor street location to 203 North avenue, slated to take place at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon, before the hospitals and charities committee, will be postponed because of a special meeting of council.

Promulgation of a new rule whereby patients would be admitted to Battle Hill sanitarium only for a six-month period, was advocated Tuesday by Councilman W. Frank Beck, chairman of the hospitals and charities committee of council. This would obviate the necessity of caring for patients who are hopelessly afflicted for long periods of time.

Shiny Noses Hailed As Badges of Youth

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(UP)—Shiny noses were hailed today as "badges of youth" by Dr. Charles F. Pabst, chief dermatologist of the Greenpoint hospital, Brooklyn.

CHURCHMAN ASSAILS PONTIFF'S ENCYCLICAL

MONTREAL, Dec. 29.—(AP)—The Rev. Mr. W. G. Brown, of Saskatoon, moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, issued a statement commenting upon the encyclical of Pope Pius XI in which all Christians were urged to unite under the Catholic church.

Asserting he was "glad to believe in the sincerity of motives of the Roman pontiff," he said the Presbyterian church in Canada was "100 per cent Protestant and profoundly thankful for any such document."

He commented at length upon the historical background of the denominations and continued, in part, as follows: "Does he (the pope) expect an independent student of history to quietly accept his assumption of the truth of the dogma of papal infallibility which dogma lies at the background of the whole encyclical? He knows quite well that this dogma was carried into the world by the papacy in 1870 in spite of the protest of a strong and scholarly minority in that council."

Space forbids giving illustrations from history of the impossibility of any Protestant, who has read ancient or medieval or modern history, accepting any such dogma.

"As Presbyterians, our appeal always is to the sovereign God, through Jesus Christ, our great high priest, which is the only mediating priesthood since Christ finished His work upon the earth. We want no mediating priesthood, no Virgin Mary and no saints as our mediators. Our prayers are always and only in the name of Jesus Christ, the Great King and only head of the church."
